VOLUME 72 No. 131
FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1978

WEATHER
Sunny with cloudy periods over the weekend. With temperatures reaching the mid 20's on both Friday & the low 20's on Sunday.

This aircraft, used for the peaceful purpose of transporting large quantities of water to water-bomb forest fires, such as the one now in progress North of Kitimat, was once an A-26 attack bomber in World War II. The bombs it drops, now, are to save lives and preserve forests, where once they were of the lethal variety.

FOREST FIRE UPDATE

Although there is very little smoke evident in the sky, the situation at the Kitimat-Terrace forest fire late Thursday afternoon was that the fire, although not under control, was being held to the same size for the past twenty-four hours. Approximately 7,000 acres.

The weather forecast, although offering no promise of rain, is for continued cloudy skies. The cloud cover has been a saving factor keeping the temperatures down from what would otherwise have further aggravated the situation. Helicopter air tankers working with monsoon buckets are still being used and have proved far more effective than the conventional air tankers.

Two Workers Compensation officers have been on the job continuously to ensure that proper safety procedures are being followed. They have also been advising on dangerous situations. To date there has been no major accident or injury reported among the 250 people employed to fight the fire.

The two fires reported Wednesday brought the total forest fires in the Prince Rupert Forest District to thirteen of which 2 remain out of control, and 11 are in a state of mop-up.

The fire burning about 30 miles south of Atlin is reported to be about 175 acres in size.

The fire in the vicinity of the Lava Beds about two weeks ago is still burning and is now in the mop up stage. The Kitimat-Terrace fire, one week old, is estimated to have cost $400,000 to date, in firefighting costs. Preliminary surveys estimate that 200 acres of plantation have been destroyed.

According to Terry Walker, acting information officer for the Prince Rupert Forest District, the Kitimat-Terrace fire poses no immediate danger to either city.

Equipment being used in the fire now includes 20 tractors, seventeen tanker trucks, 3 skidders, eight helicopters - of whom 4 are light and 4 medium and equipped with 200-300 gallon monsoon buckets filled with special chemical retardants that give off extinguishing gases when in contact with heat.

GAME OFFICIALS ALERT FOR FLEEING WILDLIFE

Bears moving into Kitimat because of the fire in Kitimat Valley are said to be causing a problem.

Mrs. Herron, of 60 Whittlesey Street reported a bear in her back yard to Kitimat RCMP at about 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Kitimat's game officer stated that due to the fire the bear population is moving and it is expected that several bears will come into the area.

Bears were also reported in the Furlong Bay camping area, as well as Thornhill and Terrace, Thursday. The first attempt to reach the Conservation Officer in Terrace, was unsuccessful as both officials were said to be attending to "bear calls".

Last year a young boy in Kitimat was attacked by a bear in town; his scalp was torn off by the bear, but fortunately it was recovered, and successfully regrafted.

According to the Terrace office, later, Thursday, Terrace, Kitimat and Prince Rupert have the heaviest concentration of black bears in the province. Despite the week-long fire, Conservation Officer Graham Turnbull said the number of bear calls being received was no more than usual for this time of the year, for Terrace, and there seemed no cause for alarm.

For obvious reasons, people are urged to take extra precautions with their children playing in wooded areas.

If a bear is sighted, contact the RCMP immediately.

Two thefts were reported to Kitimat police Wednesday.

Melanie Martins of 39 Wohler reported the theft of her red 10-speed bike and Joe Slanina of 60 Patridge had a cutting torch taken from his welder at his residence within the last month. The torch is valued at 175.

A watch was turned into the police office which was found at Teal Street. The owner may claim upon identification.

A purse found at the hospital has also been turned into Kitimat police and the owner may claim it.

During the present Kitimat-Terrace fire, helicopters (above) equipped with "Monsoon Tanks" have proved to be far superior to the conventional Air Tanker (top of page) for fire fighting purposes. They are able to drop their load of chemical retardants with pin point accuracy. The retardant, superior to water remains on the ground in jelly form, emitting a smothering gas. The chemical is also an excellent fertilizer and environmentally safe.

Careless Campers Could Be To Blame

The more than 7000 acre fire between Terrace and Kitimat was probably caused by a careless recreationalist, according to Terry Walker, acting Press Officer for the Prince Rupert Forest District.

Four-wheel tire tracks were discovered going into the area of origin. This area was burnt out by the time authorities were able to investigate and no traces of what actually kindled the fire were found at the scene.

Games Coverage Up In Air

OTTAWA (CP) — Plans for CBC coverage of the Commonwealth Games are up in the air because of a dispute between the Crown corporation and the National Association of Broadcasters Employees and Technicians (NABET). CBC president A.W. Johnson said Thursday.

The last contract expired July 2 and negotiations for a new agreement have broken down.

Johnson said in a news release he asked the union to guarantee coverage of the Games in Edmonton Aug. 3 to Aug. 12, but the union would not give that assurance.

"The CBC must now explore alternative possibilities for coverage of the Games recognizing that full coverage is not possible without NABET participation," Johnson said.

German Students Seek Information

A very interesting letter was received at the District of Terrace Parks & Recreation Office this week. It was written by Konrad Zinsmaier, of West Germany who, along with 2 other students, are very interested in coming to B.C. this summer during August and September.

Their plans include a canoe trip down the Stikine River beginning at Taton Lake in the Spatsizi Wilderness Park.

If anybody in this area has made this particular trip or knows the Stikine River area well, please pass your information on to the Recreation Office at 638-1174.

All information gathered will be sent to these students in West Germany to help make their proposed trip as safe and enjoyable as possible.

Area To Get Geochemical Examination

Stokes Exploration Management Co. Ltd. (SEMCO) of Vancouver has been awarded the contract to carry out a 3-month geochemical reconnaissance program over 12,000 square miles of North West B.C.

The area covers Stewart (Granduc), Alice Arm, Terrace, Prince Rupert and reaches to the south of Kitimat. The area is rugged including the Coast Mountains.

The area specifically is covered by the NTS sheets 1031 (Terrace), 103P (Nass River) and 103J (Prince Rupert).

A SEMCO team of 9 is supported by 4-wheel drive trucks, trailers, a boat and trail bike with a Hughes 500 C Helicopter. The project is supervised by B.C. Government Geologist, Mr. Tails Kalnins.

It is anticipated the 4,600 sites will be sampled in the 3-month period commencing June 15th. The sediment and water samples will be analysed for 12 metals including Uranium.

This is the third year in a row that SEMCO has been selected to carry out major geochemical programs for the Federal-Provincial Governments.

Previous contracts covered 36,000 square miles of the whole of the Okanagan, the Kootenays and the Atlin areas.

The 1978 program is funded by the Accelerated Mineral Exploration Program.

Sightseeing Bus Tour

The first tour bus of the Terrace-Kitimat Summer Tours, a Chamber of Commerce project - carried no passengers - possibly because not enough people were aware of the service.

These sight-seeing bus tours will run every Monday and Thursday. Pickups are as follows: Sandman Inn 9:00 a.m.; Terrace Hotel 9:10; Lakelse Motor Hotel 9:20. Afternoon tours make pickups as follows: Sandman Inn 12:40; Terrace Hotel 12:50 and Lakelse Motor Hotel 1:00.

Cathy Crack, Parks naturalist at Lakelse Lake Park conducts nature walks and holds lectures and talks concerning natural history and wildlife, fauna and flora. The forest fire was about two miles distant when this photo was taken.

Attracted by garbage from careless campers, black bears are frequent visitors to the Lakelse area. Conservation officers are kept busy live trapping them and transporting them for release in other areas. Children should be warned against the friendly "Smoky the Bear" image, since all bears are unpredictable and contact with them can have dangerous results.

Former mayor and currently alderman and acting mayor Vic Jolliffe, surveys the site of Terrace's new courthouse and Health and Human Resources Centre. Jolliffe is standing on Olson Avenue off Kalum Street where the two facilities will be built. Construction on the health unit is expected to start this fall, although site preparation will begin immediately. The building currently housing the Child Minding Centre will have to be torn down to make way for the construction.

Pension fund buys B.C. Tel stock

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bill Bennett said today he doesn't agree with Finance Minister Evan Wolfe's decision to use the government's public service superannuation fund to buy an additional block of ordinary shares of the British Columbia Telephone Co. Bennett told reporters that if the decision had been up to him, he wouldn't have made the purchase. He said if he was running the pension fund he probably would not deal with common stock, but would prefer more secure investments. Wolfe said in Vancouver on Wednesday that the fund picked up 200,391 ordinary shares under a June 9 rights offering to B.C. Tel shareholders. The total number of B.C. Tel shares held by the government now is 1.2 million.

Wolfe said the purchase, authorized by cabinet, was made on a recommendation by the pension fund investment committee "to enhance investments in B.C. Tel already held by the superannuation fund." Harry Turner, deputy commissioner of the superannuation branch, said today, however, that the power to make decisions on such investments rests with solely with Wolfe. Wolfe said the purchase was made because "it was too sound a deal to pass up." "We would have been criticized for not taking advantage of it," he said. New Democratic Party house leader Bill King noted, however, that Bennett said during the 1975 election campaign that a Social Credit government would sell the B.C. Tel shares and use the money for social services. Bennett said today there is a big difference between the government buying stock and the government's pension fund buying stock. Asked if that merely was a distinction without a difference, Bennett said his government has no intention of getting into the investment field and, indeed, has moved to divest itself of holdings acquired by the NDP.

NDP blamed for nursing problems at hospital

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hilda Thomas, a director at Vancouver General Hospital, said Wednesday the former New Democratic is responsible for the poor quality of nursing facilities at the hospital. "We were not able to get any funding for nurses," she said during a public forum attended mainly by those supporting nurses in their current fight with the administration for more control and better facilities at the hospital. "The dismal working conditions, the overheated rooms and the stench of urine leave one no room to faint in. Conditions are appalling."

Ms. Thomas said, however, that conditions will improve at the hospital. "The board and the administration are aware of the nurses' problems," she said. "I ask you to be aware of some of the other problems."

The dispute over nursing conditions led to the recent firing of three top nurses.

Tougher for youths to get welfare now

VICTORIA (CP) — Human Resources Minister Bill Vander Zalm's decision to make it tougher for 16 to 18-year-olds to obtain welfare met with mixed reaction Thursday.

Victoria police chief Jack Gregory welcomed the decision, saying it will force more teenagers to move back home, where they will come under tighter parental control.

Hugh Miller, spokesman for the British Columbia Association of Social Workers, said, however, the decision will have little effect because it doesn't really constitute much of change in policy.

MLA Rosemary Brown (NDP-Vancouver-Burrard), her party's human resources critic, said Wednesday she is opposed to the move because Vander Zalm was acting in a highly arbitrary manner, when all decisions should be based solely on need.

Vander Zalm said that giving social assistance to teen-agers only encourages them to leave home when they are involved in family disputes.

EXPLAINS DECISION

He said, however, that if a young person has become destitute after leaving a home with irrevocable domestic problems, or after a period of independent employment, he could still be eligible for benefits.

But except for emergency cases, regional human resources officers now must seek approval for Victoria to disburse welfare money to youths 16 to 18.

Miller said that, generally, this has been the policy of the ministry for a long time. He said that, in the past, social assistance has been given to youths only in the most extreme of circumstances.

"Frankly, I think it's just a case of the minister making it appear he is being very hardnosed when there really isn't any change in policy," Miller said.

FEW INVOLVED

Vander Zalm said Wednesday that only about 100 under-18s were collecting welfare when he introduced the change in policy about a month ago and most of these have returned to their parents or found jobs.

Gregory said most youths receiving welfare were living in flats and second and third rate hotels, and many have come to the attention of police because of possible criminal activity.

"My feeling is that youths who are living away from home and on welfare will be forced back to their homes where they (parents) will have some sort of control," Gregory said. He said there will be the odd youth who might turn to theft to maintain his independence once welfare is cut, but the majority will return to their families. "I really think that forcing them back to their homes is a good move," he said.

This space-age automotive breakthrough could be your big breakthrough!

NEAREST THING TO A LIFETIME* ENGINE!!!
NEW T.M.T. HOT "PLATES" THE INSIDES OF YOUR ENGINE WITH A 50,000 MILE PROTECTIVE Du Pont Teflon* COATING!

WHAT IS TMT?
TMT is a superconcentrated liquid formulation incorporating Du Pont Teflon*, the same chemical compound that went to the Moon in the lunar vehicle engines. When TMT is added to an engine crankcase, this key ingredient instantly goes to work against the No. One Cause of poor gas mileage, sluggish performance, high operating temperatures, and mechanical breakdown: Frictional drag.

But unless you're a chemical engineer, right now you're more interested in what TMT does than how it does it. So here it is, in a nutshell:
TMT IS FAST! There's nothing complicated about using TMT—a 12-year-old kid could do it in less than 60 seconds... and not even get his hands dirty!
TMT IS PERMANENT! It's an engine treatment, not an oil treatment. Just one single application is all it takes to permanently protect your engine, for as long as you own your car!

TMT IS SAFE! We've put our money where our mouth is on this... with a $1,000,000 Product Liability Policy issued by a nationally famous insurance company!
TMT IS EFFECTIVE! Effective for any car, truck, or other vehicle—whether it's this year's model or one that's 15 years old! Protects and preserves new engines... "lightens up" and rejuvenates old ones!
TMT IS GUARANTEED! Every TMT Treatment sold carries with it the strongest, most iron-clad Guarantee we could think of—
• GUARANTEED: Better gas mileage or money back in full!
• GUARANTEED: Less oil burning longer periods before "topping off" or money back in full!
• GUARANTEED: Smoother engine performance... less stalling and rough idling or money back in full!
• GUARANTEED: Increased horsepower and higher compression... more zip and acceleration or money back in full!
• GUARANTEED: Longer engine life (fewer repair bills (especially for costly ring and piston jobs) or money back in full!
• GUARANTEED: All these important, money-saving benefits no matter how long you own your vehicle... or money back in full!

In view of the many possible savings and benefits cited above, what do you suppose any vehicle owner or operator would gladly pay for a one-time, permanent treatment of TMT? $50.00? $100.00? MORE?
Well, later to this. The established retail price of TMT is only $14.95! That's right, only $14.95—a tiny investment that could possibly pay itself back dozens of times over... in savings on gas, oil, and repair bills. Fantastic!

FACT The cost of owning and operating any vehicle—car, bus, truck, you name it—has gone straight through the ceiling! The cost of gasoline and oil? UPI! The payments demanded by skilled (and not-so-skilled) mechanics? UPI! The price tags on new cars and trucks? UPI! It's positively sickening—and it's going to get worse before it gets any better!

ED ALMQUIST WORLD FAMOUS AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEER REPORTS ON T.M.T. TEFLON TREATMENT.
"The active chemical ingredient in 'T.M.T.' has a special affinity for metal which causes it to adhere to all exposed friction surfaces. Polymers attract more polymers to a micro thickness which means a 'controlled' build-up occurs around worn surfaces, which accounts for the numerous user-reports of reduced 'blow-by', increased compression readings, and reduced oil consumption!"
"And in order to effect a permanent treatment, you simply add 'T.M.T.' to the crankcase oil through the oil filler hole (so easy—that even a child can do it)—preferably after the engine has reached normal operating temperature. The engine should then be run for a minimum of thirty minutes, in order to make sure that all friction surfaces are 'plated'. Only slight ounces are required for the average passenger car or small truck engine."
"And once 'T.M.T.' has been added to an engine—positive results can be seen through the experienced and trained eyes of even the most skilled of mechanics. They will notice a decided increase in compression readings—which indicates that piston and ring seal have improved. An increase in idle r.p.m.s will also be detectable due to the reduced friction after a few hundred miles of 'T.M.T.' 'plating'."
"CONCLUSION: Not only is 'T.M.T.' easy to use (it should take 30-seconds at the most for adding a permanent treatment)—but its results can be seen even under the careful scrutiny of any mechanic! The benefits that can be expected with 'T.M.T.' in the engine—are as follows: Increased Gas Mileage—Increased Horsepower—Less Oil Consumption—Less Wear On Internal Parts—Reduced Emissions—Lower Operating Temperatures—Easier Cold Weather Starts!"

Now that you've heard from the expert... listen to the raves of ordinary drivers. THE RESULTS PEOPLE HAVE GOTTEN ARE SO SENSATIONAL, WE CAN'T PRINT THEM. THAT'S WHY WE'VE "BEEPED" THEM OUT OF THESE ACTUAL CUSTOMER LETTERS... (Once you've put T.M.T. in your vehicle, you'll be filling in the figures yourself).

Motorcycle Racer gets more power!
"As an engineering student and racer, I was interested in what T.M.T. would do in a tenth mile speed test.
A series of runs from a standing start showed that our E.T. (Elipe Tami) was reduced by XX a second after T.M.T. was added to the fuel mix in my 125 c.c. Kawasaki Motorcross racing motorcycle.
As a student of engineering this proved that T.M.T. reduced friction and increased power."
K.B. — Racer

"Bad Deal" becomes "Good Deal" with "T.M.T."
"I've tried gas savers, pills, new filters, engine treatments, etc. My friend told me about a product that his father had just tested for his fleet of trucks and I'm sure you guessed it was T.M.T. My mileage has gone from XX to an unbelievably astounding XX. My father, who is a car mechanic told me it's impossible, but I've kept exact records on my last four tankfuls and have proven the old saying that even fathers can be wrong. Of course he probably won't admit it until he uses the TMT in his car that I'm giving him as a present."
— R.W.

Auto Mechanic recommends "T.M.T."
"I am an Auto Mechanic and I drive a '67 Caddy, and it was using a lot of gas in the city and on the highways. I was getting 14 miles to the gallon, but now, since I've been using 'T.M.T.' I pick up XX gallons in the city and XX gallons on the highway, so I know you people have a good product and I will recommend it."

IT'S OUR BIRTHDAY!

The Terrace-Kitimat Daily Herald is celebrating its 70th anniversary this week.

We first started out as the Omenica Herald in July, 1908, published by Devoin & Coyle in Hazelton with branches in Telkwa, the Bulkley Valley and Port Essington.

Since then over the years we've moved to Terrace, become part of the Sterling Publications chain of newspapers, become a daily paper in May 1, 1977 and most recently, expanded out our news and circulation coverage to Kitimat.

We, the staff at The Herald, would like to say "Thanks" to all our readers for helping to make our birthday a happy one.

EDITORIAL

Back in 1939 - about 39 years ago, Britain was desperately examining hundreds of thousands of young men for induction into the armed forces. Medical authorities were shocked to find a high percentage of potential recruits could not meet minimum health standards because of bad nutrition.

In an equally desperate effort to remedy the situation, in the midst of the War, Britain introduced compulsory hot school lunches with fruit and milk at a minimum charge; free to those unable to pay even the minimum. The results were astounding.

My uncle, who was a headmaster of a small village school in Norfolk (Aldborough) - a veritable "Mr. Chips" - in 1941 proudly showed me around the school cafeteria and pointed to before and after weight and physical condition records and charts.

School learning performance also jumped, absenteeism from colds and other sickness declined - no words he could find appeared sufficient to prove the value of the school lunch program, even though everyone in Britain, it seems, had expressed at the outset, that common Anglo-Saxon phrase - "It'll never work." It DID.

Thirty-one years after the war - in 1976, I flew back to the U.K. - the first time I had been back since I was there in Canadian uniform. My uncle was dead and buried. His son had followed in his footsteps - and had just retired.

I managed to hunt up a village school, nearby, that I had attended between the ages of six and 9. Introducing myself to the headmaster - a dead ringer of my uncle, whom he had known - proudly I was shown around my old school - which was close to a century and a half in age.

My Dickensian-looking and acting guide flung open doors, with a flourish to show off the school library, the audio-visual "resource and communication centre."

With additional panache he demonstrated the lengths education had come with graphic slides and other media presentation of human reproduction from the first kiss to the first sound of a newborn baby's cry. "Now, you wouldn't see that, in Canada - would you?" he exclaimed, over and over. We agreed.

"And now - for my piece de resistance," he bellowed, in typically bad Churchillian French as he burst open the swinging doors to the next school area. "Behold! MY cafeteria and lunch room!"

A Look At Community Kitchens

There, before us, several hundred children were quietly engaged, at individual "family" tables, with student "mothers" and "fathers" at each table, obviously enjoying a dietetically correct and scrumptious looking menu which, we were shown, offered a good variety of meats, vegetables, deserts - and milk.

Now. Back to Canada. Back to Terrace and Kitimat. Comparisons can be odious. If I think things are done better over there - why not pack up and leave. Canada can manage to get along without me. (No, no - that's not the point!)

But what IS the point is that an emergency experiment during wartime Britain, in communal feeding - is still being carried on, almost forty years later, and lauded a great success.

When I order my breakfast at a local restaurant - two eggs, toast, juice and coffee, maybe a strip of bacon - which, quick arithmetic tells me should not cost at the most over 65 cents - then have to fork over $4.00 for it (not including the tip) the common sense of communal restaurants, such as that school in Diss, I saw, two years ago, and that other, in Aldborough, in 1941 seem obvious. (I forget what the cost per meal averaged - but it was ridiculously small!)

Then I think of the thousands and thousands of individual kitchens in homes in Terrace and Kitimat - each kitchen plugging in an electric kettle, a toaster, and turning on a hotplate - just to feed from one to five or six people. Then I think of that other alternative, for those who are forced to eat out - where it costs an arm and a leg, if they have to do so on a full-time basis - so many are forced to eat unbalanced meals or go without.

This makes me wonder. Why cannot some intelligent group get together and operate a communal type "kitchen" which will serve good, tasty meals NOT at a dollar an egg - but at a reasonable markup. Then, old age pensioners, invalids, school kids, and the "average" citizen would be able to enjoy a better life, with balanced nutrition... think of all those individual sinks each turning on hot water taps and wasting detergent when one communal kitchen would serve hundreds! Think of the energy - the hydro that would be saved.

Think, also, in these times of high unemployment - how many jobs would be created and, from a humanitarian standpoint, it could be easily arranged that nobody - no matter how destitute - would ever need to go hungry!

OTTAWA OFFBEAT

Digging out the Bigtime Spenders

by Richard Jackson

Ottawa, - What on earth is Conservative MP Robert Howie going to do for fun if Joe Clark ever takes the Tories to the power and the glory.

If the Honorable Member for New Brunswick's riding of York-Sudbury makes it he'll have to put his sense of humor into the parliamentary deep-freeze, inactivate his talent for making political mischief, and generally simmer down.

Members of the Cabinet - and J. Robert is not exactly an outsider among candidates Joe Clark will be looking at for his ministry - traditionally are expected to take a very serious, if not altogether dull, view of things.

Nothing like power to cool out a fellow's feeling for the riddle-dockle.

Even as a Conservative backbencher - supposing he does miss the brass ring of ministerial power on any future cabinet merry-go-round Joe Clark may run - J. Robert will be expected to be seen but seldom heard.

Just like any government backbencher.

And Howie!

But meanwhile, still in Opposition, getting his kicks by making fun of the Liberals is more than fair political ball.

The Liberals and their vast bureaucratic establishment take themselves so very seriously it only adds to the enjoyment for J. Robert when he has them squirming on one of his skewers.

This time he has been poking around the government's well-loaded booze-and-buffet department.

He's been asking about all those cocktail parties, three - martini luncheons and spare-no-expense dinners that the federal honchos throw at public expense.

The government would like you to believe it does its entertaining strictly in the interest of business.

"The Liberal party's business," suspects J. Robert, "if not always the nation's."

So, he demanded, getting down to the "how much" if not the detailed "why" of all the partying, who was spending what?

He addressed his questions seven months ago to each of the departments: "What amount was spent for socializing?"

Simple question, what?

Nothing complicated.

Should be a cinch to answer.

But the business of government is serious business and ordinarily is not supposed to lend itself to the lighter things of life like knocking them back at the bar and bellying up to the buffet.

So, understandably, the departments were slow, if not reluctant to answer.

But three, biting the bullet, bravely spoke up - even if it took from November to June.

First was the dauntless department of External Affairs, an elitist establishment that operates its own ballrooms, banquet halls and bars.

They left with $2,426,040.10 worth of hospitality, most of it served to diplomatic colleagues abroad.

What did they do with that odd dime? Who knows?

Next line was Industry Trade and Commerce with $2,332,556 even, 75 percent of it lavished overseas.

Third was Manpower and Immigration at $632,401.73, again most of it spent in "foreign service," as the department put it.

The totals are for a period of 23 months.

Bob Howie calls it his "war on the Mad Hatters of Ottawa," and reports:

"The returns for the annual eating and drinking contest are not all in, but the trend is apparent, the bureaucratic boffins prefer the heavy action overseas."

"The government has to be really serious about its decentralization plan - most of the taxpayers' dollars for entertainment are being spent in Faraway Places - almost as if they hope it will escape our notice."

"They can run but they cannot hide."

Not while J. Robert Howie is peeking.

THE OTHER SIDE

VICTORIA - Chris D'Arcy, the New Democrat MLA for Rossland-Trail, has proposed B.C. Hydro pay the full equivalent of property taxes on all installations including the Columbia River Treaty dams and the W.A.C. Bennett dam on the Peace River.

The grants in lieu of taxes would net school boards, municipal councils and regional districts and the provincial government some $25 million in annual property taxes, D'Arcy said today as he introduced into the Legislature a private members bill which would require the publicly-owned utility to pay the grants.

D'Arcy said the bill "would be the most effective, immediate action that the government could take to respond to the rapidly increasing cost of schools and local government which the average homeowners are being asked to bear."

The bill calls for full grants in lieu of taxes on all dams, power houses, generating machinery, substations, transmission lines, repair facilities, office buildings and "any and all other lands, machinery or structures owned or leased by the Hydro Authority."

The bill also would permit the government to give rebates to Hydro gas and electricity consumers from a fund which would be "equivalent to 90 percent of the Federal and Provincial Power Corporation Income Tax that would be paid if the Hydro Authority were privately-owned." It would also permit similar rebates to customers of West Kootenay Power and Light Company and Inland Natural Gas Company.

D'Arcy said the rebates would amount to $12 million in 1978.

"Hydro's failure to pay a penny of property tax on Columbia River Treaty projects is a direct $10 million annual subsidy to the Treaty deficit," D'Arcy said.

"However, this subsidy is not spread equally around the province but is carried entirely by residents of the Kootenays. A more blatant case of regional discrimination is hard to imagine. When the government paid less than its fair share of property taxes, at least the 15 mill limitation was applied everywhere. Not so with Hydro. On some property it pays full taxes, on others school tax only, and on its mightiest projects, none at all."

He said the new Transit Act has just given Hydro "a $60 million annual gift, indexed for inflation in the future. Private power and natural gas distributors pay income tax and property tax."

Even the government now pays its property taxes. So should Hydro. Thanks to the Transit Act they have the money."

"Of course, once the report came down (June 20) it became very clear that he was not making it all up - this top-secret report which no one had seen and which was not influenced by any input from the government."

The home of Agnes Sutton

The ancient, half blind old woman who lives in this equally-aged cedar frame house with two faithful dogs and a grandson for company, still has the best of both worlds. Looking out of the southern windows of her home she can still though dimly, see the majestic mountainous ridge of the Seven Sisters. To the North, a hundred yards from her front door, she has the salmon and trout filled Skeena. Her garden which she still tills, brings her an abundance of potatoes, strawberries, vegetables, rhubarb - and even tree fruits. Friends drive hundreds of miles to visit her. And when they are gone, and she is by herself in her garden cottage, she is not alone. A thousand, thousand memories surround her, to keep her company.

Fire Towers Still Needed

HALIFAX (CP) - Nova Scotia maintains 36 forest-fire watchtowers as part of its forest-protection program.

John Gass, supervisor of forest protection for the lands and forests department, says he does not foresee the day when there will be no watchtowers in the province, unless it becomes a matter of economics.

Gass said in an interview the only tower closed in the province was one at Albro Lake, near Dartmouth, which was owned by the department of national defence.

New Brunswick maintains only two watchtowers, with the rest of the forests patrolled by aircraft.

Gass said aircraft are used only in remote sections of Nova Scotia, such as in the Cape Breton Highlands.

"Because of the high population in the province, we must have more than the one-or two-hour patrols that aircraft provide," he said.

Nova Scotia has one patrol aircraft, two Beaver water bombers which can be used for patrol and an additional water bomber, leased from Newfoundland.

Gass said if a critical situation arises or the tower is unable to confirm exactly where the smoke is coming from, an aircraft is sent to the area.

"If the day comes when manufacturers cease making the towers or the people manning the towers demand a wage scale that makes it economically difficult to maintain, then we will have to look to other means of protecting the forests."

Gass said the towers are only manned during the summer months and if it is a particularly wet season the men are put to work on other jobs.

Several churches in Terrace are sponsoring a special "Sing-A-Long" program at Furlong Bay, Lakelse Lake on Sunday July 9 at 7 p.m.

Local musicians and ministers will be featured in leading the song time as well as presenting "specials".

Posters and flyers will be distributed along the beach and camping areas to invite those enjoying the warm weather. Folks from Terrace and Kitimat are invited to come and join in the joyous celebration.

In case of inclement weather, everyone will be invited indoors to the Alliance Church, 4923 Agar Ave., Terrace for a similar service.

The participating churches are hoping this will be a unique way to share the goodness of God together in the great out-of-doors.

THIS WEEK

from Ottawa

Parliament has now recessed for the summer, and is not scheduled to reconvene until mid-October.

I look forward to using these next three months travelling throughout Skeena and visiting our area's many communities - particularly those more isolated ones that my duties in Ottawa prevent me from getting to as often as I would wish.

The parliamentary recess does not mean, though, that my House of Commons office will not continue to be at your service. Both my Ottawa office and my constituency office in Terrace will remain open on their regular basis, and my staff is there to assist you in any difficulties you may have in dealing with the federal bureaucracy.

One area of the federal bureaucracy which has just moved closer, and in more direct contact, with the people it is to serve is the Unemployment Insurance Commission. Starting on July 4, all Unemployment Insurance Claims in Prince Rupert, the Queen Charlottes, and other villages on the north coast will be processed through the new U.I.C. office in Prince Rupert. This office is being operated in coordination with the existing Canada Employment Centre in that city.

Formerly U.I.C. claimants from Prince Rupert and the coastal villages had their files handled by the Prince George U.I.C. office, and Queen Charlotte Island claims were dealt with by Vancouver. The new Prince Rupert office should be able to give faster and more responsive service both to U.I.C. claimants and to employers, as it will also be handling their records of employment as well.

The establishment of this new Prince Rupert office is the final stage of decentralizing U.I.C. operations in northwestern B.C. Last fall administration of claims from Kitimat, Hazelton, Smithers and Houston was transferred from Prince George to Terrace.

FEED GRAIN ASSISTANCE

I met recently with my cabinet colleague Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan to discuss problems affecting our area's cattle ranchers, and he has assured me that the Bulkey-Nechako region is eligible for help under two new programs designed to assist in construction of feed grain storage facilities.

The two programs, valued at $15,000,000, will provide financial assistance to elevator operators constructing new inland feed grain elevator facilities or expanding existing feed grain storage capacity. For further information on these programs please contact me care of the House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario, (K1A 0X2) No postage is required.

"Mr. Speaker, I am never going to forget your birthday because it was while I was at your birthday party in the Ned deBeek Lounge last Thursday, (June 15) sipping at a glass of Calona dry red or something, that an impeccable source came up to me and said, as he was sipping from his glass of Calona dry red: "I hear you guys have been wiped out." I made a flip comment and he both let it rest at that. But I tucked it away in the back of my mind and I wondered if the Eckardt report is all that secret and no one knows what is going on - he's probably making it all up.

"Of course, once the report came down (June 20) it became very clear that he was not making it all up - this top-secret report which no one had seen and which was not influenced by any input from the government."

Mariners slip past Oakland

SEATTLE (AP) — Tom Paciorek's two-run single in the seventh inning lifted Seattle Mariners to a 3-2 victory over Oakland A's in an American League baseball game Thursday night as Paul Mitchell and Enrique Romo collaborated on a four-hitter.

The Mariners trailed 2-1 entering the seventh, but then loaded the bases with two outs. Oakland starter John Johnson was replaced by Elias Sosa at this point and Paciorek's single drove in Bruce Bochte and Larry Milbourne to give the Mariners a 3-2 lead. Mitchell Page's RBI single in the third inning had given the A's a 1-0 lead. They extended it to 2-0 in the fifth on an RBI single by Joe Wallis.

Milbourne's double in the bottom of the fifth cut the Mariners deficit to 2-1.

Mitchell, 5-8, went seven innings before being replaced by Romo, who got his eighth save. Johnson lost his first game against the Mariners and his record dropped to 5-5.

Tardiff MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Marc Tardiff, a 30-year-old left winger with Quebec Nordiques, was named Thursday the Most Valuable Player in the World Hockey Association.

It was the second time Tardiff has won the Gordie Howe Trophy in the last three years. Only Bobby Hull, who captured the award in 1973 and 1975, has been a dual recipient.

Tardiff broke the league record for most points in one season, scoring 65 goals and adding 89 assists for a total of 154 points.

The WHA also announced that Bill Dineen of Houston Aeros had won Coach of the Year honors for the second year in a row. He guided a rebuilt Houston team, playing without Gordie Howe and his two sons, to a third-place finish. He has more wins than any other coach in the WHA with a record of 280-170-19.

Kent Nilsson of Winnipeg Jets, a 20-year-old centre from Sweden, was named Rookie of the Year for scoring 42 goals and 65 assists for 107 points. It marked the second time this award has gone to a Swedish-born player, Anders Hedberg having won it in 1975.

Lars-Erik Sjöberg of Winnipeg Jets was named the outstanding defenseman, Al Smith of New England Whalers was chosen the top goaltender and Dave Keon, also of New England, received the award as the WHA's most gentlemanly player.

Bobby Guindon, a little-known Jets forward, was voted the playoff Most Valuable Player. The five-foot-nine, 166-pound Guindon scored eight goals and added five assists in Winnipeg's march to the title.

Named to the WHA All-Star team were goaltender Smith, New England; defencemen Sjöberg, Winnipeg, and Al Hamilton, Edmonton Oilers; centre Ulf Nilsson, Winnipeg; left wing Tardiff, Quebec, and right wing Hedberg, Winnipeg.

The second team consisted of goaltender Ernie Wakely, Houston; defencemen Rick Ley, New England, and Barry Long, Winnipeg; centre Robbie Ftorek, Cincinnati Stingers; left wing Hull, Winnipeg, and right wing Real Cloutier, Quebec.

6-team league for Howe

new york (cp) — It may be like old times for Gordie Howe, at age 50, playing in a six-team hockey league.

Howe played 25 years in the National Hockey League, which during most of that period was a six-team league.

Howe and New England Whalers again could be operating in a six-team league this fall — the World Hockey Association.

"If this really becomes a six-team league, it will be like old times for me," said Howe.

"When there are so few teams, rivalries build up and I think the fans enjoy it a bit more because they get to be familiar with the players on all six teams."

The probability of the six-year-old WHA functioning in 1978-79 with only six teams seemed likely in the light of developments Wednesday at the WHA's board of trustees meeting.

Howard Baldwin, WHA president, said: "I received a telephone report from the Houston trustee, Kenneth Schnitzer, on the current situation of Houston. The board of trustees has decided to take appropriate action based on Mr. Schnitzer's report. He will be given full notice of the board's decision."

Baldwin then said: "It seems unlikely Houston will operate in 1978-79."

Birmingham Bulls also seem unable to put their financial house in order at this point, and have been given until July 12 to establish definite plans for the 1978-79 season.

The Bulls have been released from a financial commitment made a month ago when merger talks began with the NHL. At that time, John Bassett, the Bulls' trustee, pledged his escrow moneys for 1978-79. Now Bassett has been unable to convene his board of directors to determine the support he can expect for next season, Baldwin said.

With Houston and Birmingham out, the WHA would have three Canadian clubs — Winnipeg Jets, Edmonton Oilers and Quebec Nordiques — and three American teams — New England, Cincinnati Stingers and Indianapolis Racers.

Baldwin also announced the WHA will hold an inter-league draft starting at 1:30 p.m. EDT today. Each team will be allowed to protect 14 players, including two goalies.

The WHA president said he could not say what will happen to Houston's players pending further talks with Schnitzer before the draft.

The WHA will not conduct an amateur draft this year "but will continue to make an impact on junior signings," Baldwin said.

Baldwin was unable to convince all of his members that they should refrain from signing underage junior players. Indianapolis owner Nelson Scabania recently signed 17-year-old Wayne Gretzky from the Ontario Hockey Association Major Junior League. Last season, 19-year-old Ken Linseman became the WHA's rookie of the year with Birmingham after forcing his way into the league via a court order.

Terrace to lose Baseball Reds

Terrace will lose its only men's baseball team when the Terrace Reds fold because of lack of interest on the part of the players, according to team manager Dave Hamilton.

"There's no interest," Hamilton said, "none of the ball players are coming out."

The team is down to five players turning out to twice-weekly practices, he said, and the team can't continue with this kind of participation.

A member of the Bulkley Valley Baseball League, the Reds were formed five years ago by Red L'Estrange, who managed the team until this season. Hamilton and Colin Chasteaufneuf took over management of the team in May this year.

The Reds also lost five players at the beginning of the season to fastball teams "which didn't help," Hamilton said.

Since then co-manager Chasteaufneuf has left town to return to the University of Victoria and Hamilton has become sole manager.

The Reds is made up of young players, most of them under 20, and the team manager said he would have expected the younger players to show more enthusiasm, but this hasn't been the case.

So far the team has played six season games and seven tournament games.

"I thought after we came second in one tournament and third in another we'd get more interest," he said, "but obviously not."

In other years the Reds have had difficulty at the end of the seasons with player turnout, but have always had enough players to fill the team. This season, the lack of players has plagued the team from the very beginning.

"It's a damn shame," he said, "because it's going to be difficult to get a team going again."

Borg-Connors match up as Swede goes for third successive win

LONDON (Reuter) — Top seeds Bjorn Borg of Sweden and American Jimmy Connors overhauled their semi-final opponents at Wimbledon Thursday to set up a repeat of the 1977 men's final.

Borg, 22, who won last year's showdown in five sets, calmly disposed of unseeded Dutchman Tom Okker 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 while Connors bludgeoned his way past compatriot Vitas Gerulaitis, the third seed, winning 9-7, 6-2, 6-1.

The final on Saturday will mean much more to both men than the winner's prize of $35,500.

For Borg the final is an opportunity to realize one of his few remaining ambitions—to become the first man in over 40 years to win Wimbledon for a third successive year. For Connors it is a chance to satisfy his fierce pride, having lost two Wimbledon finals in the last three years after being champion in 1974.

WAS IRRESISTIBLE

Judged on Thursday's matches, the 25-year-old Connors may have the edge in Saturday's final. He was in irresistible form against Gerulaitis, summing up his performance in a post-match interview when he said: "I did everything I should have done—I never let up in the whole match."

The first set was the key to the contest. Connors won it in 67 minutes and having established a lead, became a ruthless dictator. He served only one double fault during the two-hour match, hit some ground strokes that had the centre court crowd gasping with admiration and volleyed with murderous finality.

Connors won the first two games, but Gerulaitis weathered this early blast and broke Connors in the sixth game to level at 3-3.

For a while it seemed that Gerulaitis might make a fight of it, but he needed to find a flaw in Connors game and as it became increasingly apparent there was none, so his resistance faded.

Borg acknowledged later that Connors was in tremendous form. "I feel a little different when I play Jimmy—he's the guy for me to beat," he added.

OKKER OFF FORM

Borg's match against Okker was something of an anti-climax with the Dutchman failing to reproduce the form that marked his unexpected progress through the early rounds.

The final word was with Borg. "The match on Saturday is the most important of my life. I want to win Wimbledon three times in a row more than anything and I'd be playing here even for one dollar."

MK Bay Marina Fishing Report

by Don Pearson, Custom Sports

Low tide occurred at 1:15 p.m. at 7.4 feet and high tide was 13.7 feet at 7:20 p.m.

Fishing on Douglas Channel on Wednesday, July 6, was very good although there was a strong wind all afternoon.

Some fish came in from Sue Channel and Giltfoynes Inlet.

The small feeders we have been catching all Spring are now from 2 to 10 pounds in size and these, mixed with early Coho make for some very active fishing.

The last large Springs were from the mouth of Foch Lagoon and as these were spawners and in good numbers, possibly some effort could be rewardingly spent in this area.

Large Springs were also reported from the Butedale area, with this region being the recipient of some good Spring rivers, again this could stand some effort with a hope of success, around the Butedale region.

All the HONDAS are here.

McCammon to Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob McCammon, who coached Maine Mariners to an American Hockey League championship in the team's first year, was appointed today as new head coach of Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League, the Associated Press learned.

The Flyers scheduled a news conference at 11:30 a.m. to make the announcement.

McCammon succeeds Fred Shero, who resigned in May after the Flyers were eliminated from the Stanley Cup playoff semi-finals by Boston Bruins.

McCammon is a tough disciplinarian, the type of coach both Flyers owner Ed Snider and general manager Keith Allen believe is needed to lead the Flyers to another NHL championship.

Shero coached the Flyers seven years and won two cups, handing in his resignation because he said he could no longer motivate the Philadelphia team.

McCammon, 37, played forward and defence 11 years for Port Huron Flags and then coached Port Huron for four seasons.

The Mariners defeated the New Haven Nighthawks in a five-game final.

KERMODE FRIENDSHIP CENTRES

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The Friendship Centre is an important aspect of many communities. It acts as a meeting place for Indians and non-Indians alike. It provides social services and recreational activities. New friends are made - problems are solved.

AIMS

Our aim is perhaps best described as a bridge - helping people over the gap from rural to urban living.

The past several years has seen a tremendous number of Native people move into cities. The reasons are varied. Some come looking for employment, others for education. Most make the move without knowing the problems they may face. This is where we can help.

SERVICES

The services offered by Friendship Centres are many, depending on the community. However, all fall into three basic categories:

SOUNSELLING AND REFERRAL

Loneliness, unemployment, housing, drug and alcohol related problems, education. Personnel at the Centres are on hand to help you.

SOCIAL, CULTURAL AND RECREATION

Join us in our programmes. Talk and trade ideas. And let us hear from one another.

ACTION

To make a better community and to keep the Indian traditions alive.

Can we help you? Friendship is our business. Please drop in.

What a difference a price makes.

RCMP got info from 1,600 files, commission told

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCMP was given confidential data from more than 1,600 social-insurance files in the last four years, often for unspecified reasons, a royal commission into RCMP wrongdoing was told Thursday.

This total was four times that given in evidence before the commission last month by Assistant Commissioner Henry Jensen of Vancouver, who led the RCMP commercial-crime branch from 1967 to 1975.

It was slightly higher than that produced in June by commission counsel W.A. Kelly.

Kelly and Jensen had been asked by Mr. Justice David C. McDonald, the commission chairman, to go into the files again and produce a total they agreed upon.

Kelly produced a figure of 1,620 RCMP requests to the unemployment-insurance commission for social-insurance data from 1974 to the present. The total for this year is 74 RCMP requests.

It is based on checks by the RCMP and Kelly.

The unemployment insurance commission stopped supplying such data to the Mounties on June 13 because the law may not allow it.

TOTAL WAS LOWER
Jensen said last month that his total of 388 requests was lower than Kelly's 1,635 because Kelly's included unemployment insurance commission requests for RCMP investigation of unemployment insurance payment frauds.

Kelly said Thursday that of a total of 1,549 RCMP requests between 1974 and 1977, about 250 involved unemployment insurance commission investigations and another 16 may have.

The Mounties gave no reason for 313 of 428 requests made during 1977, he said.

The Mounties maintained that the files were incomplete and the reason may have been given by telephone or in other ways and not filed.

Kelly's first witness as hearings resumed this week was Yvon Charlebois, executive secretary of the Canadian Employment and Immigration Commission, a new name given the unemployment insurance commission last year.

Charlebois testified that the unemployment insurance numbering system began in the early 1940s and developed into the social insurance number system in the mid-1960s.

READ INTO RECORD
Kelly read into the record

a 1966 question by Reynold Rapp, a Conservative MP from Saskatchewan, who asked whether social-insurance data was being given the RCMP.

J.R. Nicholson, then labor minister, replied that the unemployment insurance commission "continues to make certain statistical information ... available on request to the RCMP and other police forces."

"That's not quite accurate, is it?" Kelly asked.

Charlebois said the accuracy would depend on how the word "statistical" was interpreted.

Joseph Nuss, representing Solicitor-General Jean Jacques Blais, objected, saying that Charlebois hadn't been with the commission in 1966.

"We don't know where (the information) came from or who supplied it to the minister," Nuss said.

U.S.-Canadian caribou plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Discussions will be started with the United States on an agreement to create a management zone in Alaska and the Yukon for the Porcupine caribou herd, Environment Minister Len Marchand announced today.

The herd, at 110,000, has been a key source of food to natives for hundreds of years, Marchand said in a statement. The herd needed to be managed as an ecological unit on both sides of the Alaska-Yukon border. The federal government has prohibited further development of natural resources in the area while it holds public discussions on keeping the area a wilderness.

The U.S. government has proposed an expansion of the wilderness region in Alaska along the Yukon boundary.

Manson girl retried

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leslie Van Houten, a former homecoming princess who became a murderer for Charles Manson, was sent back to prison after being convicted for a second time on murder-conspiracy charges in the 1969 Tate-La-Bianca killings.

A jury of six women and six men, although admitting sympathy for her, rejected Miss Van Houten's claim of diminished mental capacity and convicted her Wednesday after a four-month trial and 34 hours of deliberation during nine days.

Miss Van Houten, 28, sat frozen with shock as the jury announced its decision at her third trial in nine years.

In a hushed courtroom, three verdicts were read: guilty of first-degree murder in the slaying of Leno LaBianca; guilty of first-degree murder in the death of Rosemary LaBianca; guilty of conspiracy in the killings of actress Sharon Tate and four others.

Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer set Miss Van Houten's sentencing for July 21. He revoked the $200,000 bail that had permitted her freedom for seven months and remanded her to the custody of the Los Angeles County sheriff.

Care And First Aid For Furniture Finishes

When you give your furniture proper care, it will look better, feel better and have a longer life—just as we do when we take proper care of ourselves.

WAXING PROTECTS surfaces and maintains shines.

These suggestions for routine maintenance can keep your furniture looking its best for years to come:

- You should dust at least twice a week, wiping with the grain. Old diapers, terry towels, cotton knitwear and cheesecloth make excellent dust cloths.
- Wax, essential for beautifying and protecting your furniture, should be applied once a month to areas that are used often. Seldom used surfaces need wax only two or three times a year.

Waxes should be selected according to the amount of shine and type of application you prefer. These recommendations, from American Drew, a manufacturer of fine furniture known for its interest in helping the consumer, will help you keep your pieces in the best light:

1. High Gloss Finishes: Spray or liquid waxes are most often used on these, but paste wax can provide longer-lasting protection for furniture that gets heavy wear.
2. Low Gloss and Satin Finishes: You should choose a low luster polish or cleaning wax without silicones.
3. Oil Finishes. After removing any wax with mineral spirits, you should apply a coat of boiled linseed oil and rub thoroughly. When most is absorbed, wipe clean.
4. Painted Finishes. Use a cleaning or dusting wax for the shine you prefer.

Furniture, like people, meets with occasional accidents that require first aid.

TREAT SCRATCHES with all the care you'd lavish on a cut finger or scraped knee.

Here's how to treat the following injuries:

- Burns. You should not try to repair a severe burn, but you can remove the charred material of a minor one with a sharp knife or razor blade. Next, you should scrub it with naphtha and smooth with fine steel wool wrapped around the tip of an orange stick. Then, fill the dent with a lac stick in a color to match the finish.

- Candle Wax. This material can be hardened with an ice cube wrapped in a plastic bag and then scraped up gently with a plastic spatula. Mineral spirits or naphtha will remove the residue. Then apply polish.

- Dents. A minor dent will disappear when you heat a moistened blotter (woolen cloth or felt) placed over the area with the tip of a warm iron. Repeat if necessary and rewax.

- Nail Polish. (1) Rub mineral or camphorated oil into the stain and wipe immediately with a clean cloth. Repeat if necessary. (2) If this fails, apply paste wax with fine steel wool, rubbing with the grain.

- Paint. Water-based paint can be removed with a water-dampened cloth, and oil-based, with fine steel wool dipped in paste wax, unless it has dried. In that case, the area should be treated with boiled linseed oil. Remaining paint can be removed with a paste of pumice powder and mineral oil.

There are said to be two million comets in the solar system.

CLEANING WAX can keep satin finishes glowing.

For a booklet of additional suggestions on the care of your fine furniture, send 10 cents to: Director of Consumer Affairs, American Drew, Inc., P.O. Box 489A, North Wilkesboro, N.C. 28659.

Let's go Boating

Getting Started in Boating

How does one get started in boating, particularly in the middle of winter?

Actually, winter is probably the best time to start boating, because there isn't any pressure to hurry and get the boat in the water. Many a long suppressed desire to take command of a vessel and sail off over the horizon in search of high adventure can be replaced with reality and fact prior to the season opening. The Allied Boating Association of Canada states: The first place to go boating is at one of the winter boat shows held in most cities. Even many of the winter outdoor and sports shows have plenty of boats on display and your first visit to the show will give you a chance to talk, look and listen with dealers and manufacturers' representatives. Do not forget your soft-soled shoes for boarding boats and be sure to pick up the literature you require at the show so that you can study it and get a good idea of what best suits your needs and plan a second visit to the show. Take your time to visit with as many dealers as you can as they have more time to sit down with you and discuss your project and the products they represent. It is sometimes a good idea to plan a business trip or visit with relatives while the boat show is in progress if it's too far away from your home location.

In most communities where there is any significant boating activity there are courses offered by clubs or commercial schools on boating. The courses offered by the Canadian Power Squadron are particularly good and have the advantage of being uniform in quality all over Canada as well as being inexpensive. Joining such an organization can be one of the best ways to make boating friends who already have a wealth of experience which they are willing to share with others.

Commercial schools and clubs normally have a small fleet of boats for students. It's a chance to "test-drive" the boat of your choice or at least get an idea of the feeling when the warmer weather approaches. In addition you will also meet people already into boating who can give you some of the tips you need when starting out.

Reading books and magazines on boating gives you a headstart

LAUGHTER IS GOOD Laughter supposedly aids digestion because it's relaxing.

THEY CHARGED $50 In the boom towns of the Old West, ladies of the evening charged an average of $50 and were booked well in advance.

and libraries have a selection of boating books. There are a wide number of magazines depending on sail or power and a year's subscription is a good investment when one considers the long winters and the happy planning which can go on in front of a warm fire in midwinter. Most boating magazines have reader information cards so that you may obtain additional information on advertisers' products. Use these cards and study carefully the literature you receive. Take some time to ask yourself some questions about your own lifestyle. The answers will affect the choice of the best boat for you. Do you really have the time to do all the maintenance that some boats require or will you wish to pay someone to do it? Are you going to be boating from a cottage or a nearby resort or do you want to keep travelling and take the boat with you? Are you more interested in sailing than power or does the combination of a fishing motor and a more powerful unit for water skiing appeal to you? Have you considered joining a yacht club and perhaps racing regularly? Perhaps you have long summer vacations or time in the evenings for sailing. Are you going to provide accommodation for six on board your dream vessel or is this a one or two person excursion?

Before you buy, check out boating facilities in your area. Dealers and yacht clubs are knowledgeable as to what's available and the kind of boat best suited for the area in which you plan to boat.

Last, but far from least, prepare a budget. Talk with your dealer, boating friend, insurance agent, banker and others to make sure that you haven't forgotten an original or operating expense. Above all, don't over extend yourself as most boaters start out with their first choice only to end up trading upwards three or four times as their knowledge increases.

Allied Boating concludes: You will find lots of help and other people who are getting started in boating.

Your Individual Horoscope

MONDAY, JULY 10, 1978

SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1978
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Excellent prospects for general interests and your special desires — if they are in the realm of possibility.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Day may not be exciting but, if you look in the right places, you will find more than adequate reason for rejoicing. Get an early start!

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Mighty splendid aspects should encourage an enthusiastic you — with your skills sharpened and activities properly directed. A day for action!

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Sidestep any activity which could hamper your forward movement. You may encounter unexpected situations; much good, too.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Stars continue favorable. Romance and creative pursuits stimulated. A good period for reevaluating your long-range projects and putting them on a more solid basis.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
A poised, unflinching manner and concise planning, together with a sound investment of time and energies are day's requirements. Educational matters especially favored.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Accept the fact that, temporarily, differences of opinion in your circle will be inevitable. Thus, you'll watch your step and do nothing to increase tensions.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A good day for activating ideas regarding financial expansion. Opportunities for advancing, career-wise, also indicated.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
An exciting, stimulating day! Act with confidence. Luck is with you in dealing with superiors.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Curb inclinations toward extravagance. If you overspend on credit or impulse buying now, you'll regret it later.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Your imagination stimulated, but don't go to extremes in anything. Be especially careful on the social front where you could overtax yourself.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
An inspiring day for romance and creative activities. In the latter connection, an avocation may prove to have remunerative value.

YOU BORN TODAY are essentially a quiet and reserved individual but, nevertheless, make friends easily and, in general, get along well with business associates. Only if you fall to curb your innate tendency to be dictatorial with those under your supervision and overpossessive with loved ones will you alienate those with whom you come in contact.

So... a word to the wise! Though extremely conservative, you will take a chance where you see the likelihood of a sound profit — for you're a born money-maker. The world of finance is your natural arena, but you could also succeed in railroad, manufacturing or science (especially medicine, geology and architecture). You have an aptitude for such arts as music and poetry but, in either, the technique of composing will be more evident than any emotional expression. Birthdate of: John D. Rockefeller, Amer. industrialist; Nelson A. Rockefeller, Amer. statesman; Fitz Green Halleck, poet.

SUNDAY, JULY 9, 1978

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Gauge well: Do not overstate one matter and underestimate another which could be even more important. Profit by experience.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Hasty decisions and moves could be day's undoing. Help maintain truths and don't stray from YOUR path. No deviating from sound opinions or letting down in standards!

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Here, too, is need for careful decisions, but not fussiness. That faithful tried-and-found-true path for you!

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
A day which can bend as you direct, but one which will require quick thinking to keep it from the losing column through neglect and (or) unprofitable detours.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Exchange ideas, meet with associates, ask questions. These are some of the many ways to improve your position in preparation for the week ahead.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Make the most of benign influences to bolster good will in all relationships. Just two admonitions: Curb restlessness and don't express opinions unless specifically asked.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A stimulating period, but don't let your enthusiasms cause you to take on more than you can handle. Easy does it!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A good day for making important decisions, but weigh them well! Move forward only after careful and deliberate forethought. Avoid impulsiveness in speech, too.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Look for some changing situations. Be alert, ready to take quick action, and be guided by procedures which have proved successful in the past.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Study results of previous actions. If everything did not turn out as planned, profit by experience. Improve where you can.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
A highly flexible attitude will be needed to deal with the various types of persons you meet now. But listen quietly to all, analyze — and make up your OWN mind.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Neptune influences are not too helpful, but don't let this deter you from trying for A-1 achievement. No good effort is ever lost.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely practical individual, meticulous in all your undertakings, but sometimes too insistent that others be as finically scrupulous as yourself.

When they aren't, you are inclined to sulk, worse yet to engage in bitter argument. It's important that you be more tolerant of your fellowman, realizing that each has his individuality and cannot, at will, become a carbon copy of yourself.

Generally speaking, however, you are loyal and affectionate; have an intense love of home and family and a quiet but delightful sense of humor. You have a keen sense of values and are willing to work unstintingly for things you consider worthwhile. Fields in which you could excel: writing (especially on scientific or historical subjects), teaching, music and painting. You have an inventive mind, too, and often come up with truly remarkable ideas which benefit many. Birthdate of: Henry Hallam, Eng. historian; Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine.

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Be neither too glib nor too skeptical. Several suggestions may be offered — some good, some otherwise. Be objective, impersonal in your judgment.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Important decisions, research, experimentation are left to your discretion now. Therefore, everything must be carefully worked out BEFORE taking action.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Neither look for trouble, nor believe it won't come if you just look the other way. Face up to situations and you won't fool yourself or find problems as difficult to solve.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Especially favored now: advancement in electronics, research, scientific pursuits, medicine and humanitarian activities.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Discretion and secrecy may be your most important tools if you are aiming for some unusual financial objective. Let past experience guide you.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Dividends indicated from past good work and interest in progressive methods. There may be some complex situations but, with astute judgment, you can solve them.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Ease up on striving, expansion, spending, if you have been in high gear. But, otherwise, an extra spur here, a wise penny spent there, can be time- and money-savers.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Try to put over your ideas but not too hard, or you may lose the attention of others by seeming to dictate. Let your willingness to cooperate dominate.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Enthusiasm, as well as competence, must be properly channeled to be effective. Do not go to extremes on this generally stimulating day.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Control emotions, a desire for luxuries. Don't shift from one plan or activity to another without reason. Don't make promises you can't keep and don't aim for the unreasonable.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Not a spectacular day, but friendly for educational and individual advancement; also for experimenting, straightening out complications and making long-range plans.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Search for a more distinctive, more helpful way to push your interests. They can be handled with greater ease if you depend on your own judgment.

YOU BORN TODAY are conservative, idealistic and extremely practical in carrying out the constructive ideas which are uniquely your own. You have a keen sense of justice, an urge for reform and a gift for oratory. These are powerful traits and, properly developed, can make you the community stalwart you were meant to be.

You are highly principled and expect others to be likewise; become completely disillusioned when they aren't. Fields which would be excellent outlets for your talents: writing, teaching, the law, science, medicine and lecturing. Traits to conquer: obstinacy, jealousy, hypersensitivity. Birthdate of: Wm. Blackstone, renowned writer on law; David Brinkley, TV news commentator.

DOONESBURY

by Garry Trudeau

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 38-year-old widow with three children. The oldest is a 14-year-old girl. There is a man I know who I thought was a really nice guy. He's divorced and has grown children. He seemed to like me and the children.

Last week he offered me money to let my 14-year-old daughter go to bed with him. I told him he was crazy. I told a policeman about it, and he said there is nothing anyone can do unless the man commits some kind of crime.

Abby, I am terrified that he might catch my daughter somewhere and rape her. (Maybe even kill her.) I know he's a sick man or he wouldn't have asked me something like that. What should I do?

UPSET IN IOWA

DEAR UPSET: Don't wait until this man commits a crime. You don't say where in Iowa you live, but I advise you to immediately alert your chief of police, sheriff or county attorney. Let them know about this sick and potentially dangerous man and what he has in mind. Alert your daughter, too. And let me hear from you again. This situation should not be ignored.

DEAR ABBY: All my life my parents have taught me to be courteous and to respect my elders, but it's getting harder every day. I will give you an example.

Last week I went to a baseball game with two of my friends. They left their seats in the stadium for a few moments and while they were gone, a man about my father's age moved in and signaled another man to come join him. I told him those seats belonged to my friends, who would be back any moment. He said he would move when my friends returned.

Well, when my friends came back, this man refused to move. I reminded him that he had given his word, but he said, "Listen, kid, I'm 30 years older than you. You kids go find other seats."

Not wanting to start trouble, my friends and I left and sat somewhere else.

Now why are kids expected to show respect and be courteous to adults when adults act like this to us?

LOVES BASEBALL

DEAR LOVES: Teenagers complain (and justifiably so) that they are individuals and want to be judged by their own actions—not by what their peers do. The same goes for adults. The men were rude, but they, fortunately, do not represent ALL adults. Be fair.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

To facilitate parallel parking, try if possible to see the car's reflection in a store window. It shows you where the rear of your car is going.
